

Fairleigh Dickinson University

Students can earn a Bachelor's or Master's degree from Fairleigh Dickinson University at Atlantic Cape Community College.

Atlantic Cape Community College has partnered with Fairleigh Dickinson University to make earning a bachelor's or master's degree faster and more convenient by offering FDU classes at Atlantic Cape Community College.

Convenience and Flexibility:

- Classes close to home
- Evening and Online classes
- Part-time students can complete up to 18 credits per year
- Full or Part-Time Options

Bachelor's Degree Programs:

- B.A. Individualized Studies with Concentrations in:
 - Business & Technology
 - Health & Human Services Administration
 - Hospitality Management

Master's Degree Program:

- M.S. in Hospitality Management Studies

Contact Information

Linda Dry

Coordinator of Administrative & Student Services

Fairleigh Dickinson University's-Community College Partnership at Atlantic Cape Community College

609-343-4984

ldry@fdu.edu